Guitar Exercises - Section VII, Level 64

Long-form arpeggio solo construction, secondary dominants, key changes, and phrase orchestration

SECTION VII CAPSTONE | 10 MODULES | 640 TONES

Level 63 expanded the right-hand vocabulary. Level 64 decides where those systems belong inside a long solo. Secondary dominants create temporary gravity, pivot chords open new key centers, and the picking system is selected by phrase function rather than habit.

1. Build a phrase arc

Statement, echo, sequence, contrast, climax, release, and cadence must occupy different structural jobs.

2. Aim secondary dominants

V/ii, V/iii, V/IV, V/V, and V/vi must resolve to their named destinations.

3. Orchestrate the technique

Alternate, economy, crosspick, hybrid, and sweep systems serve different musical functions.

Long-form phrase architecture

BAR 1   statement       establish motif and register
BAR 2   echo            preserve identity; alter one variable
BAR 3   sequence        move the idea through harmony
BAR 4   space / answer  avoid automatic continuation
BAR 5   contrast        change register, contour, or system
BAR 6   climax          highest density or widest register
BAR 7   release         simplify and restore target clarity
BAR 8   cadence         close the key or launch a modulation

Section VII capstone rule

Every phrase must preserve three identities at once: the active chord, the larger key center, and the chosen picking-system function. If any one disappears, simplify the phrase before increasing length or speed.

NEXT SECTION Harmonic minor begins only after the dominant key-change logic in this level is secure.

Guitar Exercises - Section VII, Level 64

Phrase-form map, secondary-dominant atlas, and system-selection guide

FORM | HARMONY | TECHNIQUE

SECONDARY DOMINANTS ARE TEMPORARY TONICS, NOT PERMANENT KEY CHANGES

Secondary-dominant map in C major

Function	Chord	Destination	Guide motion
V/ii	A7	Dm7	C# -> D; G -> F
V/iii	B7	Em7	D# -> E; A -> G
V/IV	C7	Fmaj7	E -> F; Bb -> A
V/V	D7	G7	F# -> G; C -> B
V/vi	E7	Am7	G# -> A; D -> C

Phrase architecture hierarchy

Layer	Question
Harmony	What chord or temporary tonic is active?
Motif	What remains recognizable?
Register	Where is the phrase moving?
Rhythm	Where is the space?
Technique	Which system serves the phrase?

Picking-system function map

System	Best use
Alternate	chromatic links, recovery, neutral connection
Economy	linear arpeggio launch
Crosspick	repeating question or rolling motif
Hybrid	bass plus upper-voice answer
Sweep burst	short climax or register launch

Modulation test

A secondary dominant resolves to a diatonic chord and may return to the original key. A modulation becomes convincing when the new tonic is confirmed, usually through its own predominant-dominant-tonic motion. Do not call every dominant chord a key change.

Guitar Exercises - Section VII, Level 64

Module A - four-bar phrase-architecture cells

5 CELLS | 40 TONES

PROGRESSION: | Cmaj7 | Am7 | Dm7 | G7 |

Each cell uses two chord tones per bar. The notes are intentionally sparse so the phrase job remains audible. Repeat the cells as eighth notes, then leave one complete beat of space after bar 4.

A1. Root-to-third statement

Two tones per bar; preserve the four-bar arc.

Nte|C----E----|A----C----|D----F----|G----B----|
Rol|R----3----|R----b3---|R----b3---|R----3----|

Module B - secondary-dominant arpeggio resolutions, Part 1

V/ii V/iii V/IV | 24 TONES

FOUR DOMINANT TONES -> FOUR DESTINATION-CHORD TONES

The dominant arpeggio is the question; the destination arpeggio is the answer. The root-string family changes at the same fret so the harmonic resolution is clearer than the position shift.

V/ii: A7 -> Dm7

Dominant arpeggio | destination arpeggio. Eight picked tones.

Guitar Exercises - Section VII, Level 64

Module B - secondary-dominant arpeggio resolutions, Part 2

V/V V/vi | 16 TONES

THE DESTINATION MUST SOUND LIKE A NEW LOCAL HOME, NOT A RANDOM NEXT CHORD

After the printed cells, add one beat of silence between the two arpeggios. The resolution should remain clear even when the dominant and destination are separated by space.

V/V: D7 -> G7

Four-tone dominant statement -> four-tone destination answer.

Nte|D---A---C---F#--|G---D---F---B---|
Rol|R---5---b7--3---|R---5---b7--3---|
  e|----------------|----------------|

VARIATION Repeat each cell descending, then begin on the dominant third instead of the root.

Guitar Exercises - Section VII, Level 64

Module C - secondary-dominant guide-tone resolution cells

5 CELLS | 40 TONES

THE TWO GUIDE VOICES EXPLAIN WHY THE DOMINANT RESOLVES

The first four notes trace the dominant third into the destination. The second four trace the dominant flat seventh into the destination. Sustain the target notes before adding rhythm or articulation.

Module D - major-key change routes, Part 1

2 ROUTES | 32 TONES

PIVOT CHORD -> NEW DOMINANT -> NEW TONIC

Each four-bar route begins in one major key and confirms the next. The second chord is shared with or compatible with both key centers; the third chord functions as the dominant of the destination.

C -> G

Four chords; four arpeggio tones per bar. Announce the new key before bar 4.

Module E - minor-key change routes, Part 1

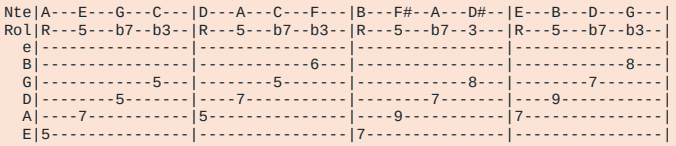
2 ROUTES | 32 TONES

THE NEW MAJOR DOMINANT DEFINES THE DESTINATION MINOR KEY

The first two bars establish the old minor center. Bar 3 introduces the major dominant of the new minor key. Bar 4 confirms the new tonic with a minor-seventh arpeggio.

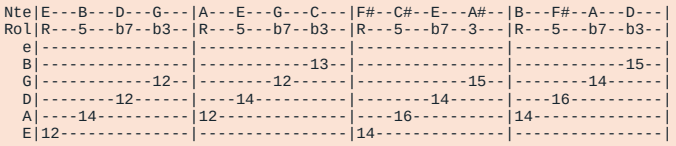
A minor -> E minor

Listen for the raised dominant third before the new minor tonic.



E minor -> B minor

Listen for the raised dominant third before the new minor tonic.



Guitar Exercises - Section VII, Level 64

Section VII mastery gate, performance orchestration, and practice log

NEXT: HARMONIC MINOR

THE CAPSTONE IS COMPLETE WHEN THE SOLO SOUNDS DESIGNED ACROSS MULTIPLE KEYS

Ten-phase practice progression

- [ ] 1. Five phrase-architecture cells
- [ ] 2. Five secondary-dominant resolutions
- [ ] 3. Five guide-tone cells
- [ ] 4. Four major key changes
- [ ] 5. Four minor key changes
- [ ] 6. Eight system-aware phrases
- [ ] 7. Four eight-bar studies
- [ ] 8. Major capstone
- [ ] 9. Minor capstone
- [ ] 10. Recovery and bridge templates

Performance orchestration test

- [ ] Take 1: use the printed systems.
- [ ] Take 2: choose by phrase function.
- [ ] Keep one system for a full bar.
- [ ] Sweep only at a planned climax.
- [ ] Alternate-pick after an error.
- [ ] Record the key-center / arc audit.

Mastery gate and Section VII completion standard

- [ ] Resolve all five secondary dominants to the correct destination chord.
- [ ] Perform all major and minor key-change routes without a form pause.
- [ ] Use all five picking systems without changing the written rhythm or harmony.
- [ ] Perform the four eight-bar studies and both sixteen-bar capstones.
- [ ] Recover from a missed note or system error without abandoning the key sequence.
- [ ] Record one major and one minor long-form solo whose phrase arc is audible to a listener.
- [ ] Meet the complete standard on two separate days.

Practice log and next section
