CAGED as a practical chord, triad, root, arpeggio, and nearby-scale map

5 FORMS | 558 ATTACKS | 45 SILENT PROMPTS

CAGED is used here as an indexing system, not a shape religion. Each form identifies a root region, a practical chord fragment, nearby triad inversions, a chord-tone arpeggio, and surrounding scale tones. Full C and G forms are optional; partial voicings and triads are the primary performance material.

1. Find the roots

Locate the form from its root strings before forming any grip.

2. Extract the useful fragment

Choose the smallest voicing that contains the required chord tones and register.

3. Connect chord, triad, and scale

Use the local triad as the bridge between the full form, arpeggio, and nearby scale tones.

C major through the five CAGED forms

CAGED CYCLE: C -> A -> G -> E -> D -> C one octave higher
```

Written workload

Module	Attacks
B - form construction	66
C - triad fragments	60
D - quality switches	40
E - arpeggios	52
F - scale routes	80
G - CAGED cycle	40
H - I-IV-V cells	80
I - zone synthesis	60
J - capstone	80
TOTAL	558

Boundary and session protocol

Form the root map silently. Sound the practical fragment. Identify one triad inversion. Arpeggiate the chord tones. Add nearby scale tones and return to the chord. Do not force the full G form or a full movable C form when a partial voicing is cleaner and more musical.

SUCCESS The player can move from a root to a useful chord, triad, arpeggio, and scale phrase without searching the entire neck.

CAGED root-string formulas, cycle order, and transposition map

ROOT FIRST | FORM SECOND | VOICING THIRD

THE FORM NAME DESCRIBES THE OPEN-CHORD GEOMETRY, NOT THE SOUNDING CHORD NAME

Form	Primary root fret r	Movable major formula	Additional roots	Practical warning
C	A-string r	x r r-1 r-3 r-2 r-3	B string r-2	requires r >= 3; use partials

G	low-E r	r r-1 r-3 r-3 r-3 r	G string r-3; high-e r	orientation shape; fragments preferred
E	low-E r	r r+2 r+2 r+1 r r	D string r+2; high-e r	full barre is practical
D	D-string r	x x r r+2 r+3 r+2	B string r+3	compact top-string form

Natural-root locations

C	3	8	10

Five-form command

Choose one target root. Form the nearest C, A, G, E, and D regions silently. Verify one practical partial and one triad fragment in each region. Use another octave when a formula would require a negative fret.

C-major reference cycle

A FORM | 13 ATTACKS

Guitar Exercises - Section VI, Level 54

Module H - nearest-triad C-F-G-C progressions in E and D-form regions

2 CELLS | 32 ATTACKS

THE REGISTER CHANGES; THE FUNCTIONAL VOICE LEADING REMAINS THE SAME

These upper regions connect the E- and D-form maps to the next octave C form. Keep the top voice audible and avoid sliding the entire hand before the current chord has fully released.

E form region - D-G-B - C-F-G-C

Inversions: C:RP | F:2nd | G:1st | C:RP

```

Guitar Exercises - Section VI, Level 54

Module A extension - transpose the five-form map to natural roots

35 SILENT FORMATIONS | RANDOM VERIFICATION

ROOT NOTE -> ROOT STRING -> FORM FORMULA -> PRACTICAL FRAGMENT -> TRIAD

Draw one root and one form. Choose an octave where the formula remains on the neck. Form silently, name every root inside the voicing, sound one practical partial, and arpeggiate one embedded triad.

Root-fret command table

Root	C/A-form A root	G/E-form low-E root	D-form D root
C	3 / 15	8	10
D	5	10	0 / 12
E	7	0 / 12	2 / 14
F	8	1 / 13	3 / 15
G	10	3 / 15	5 / 17
A	0 / 12	5 / 17	7
B	2 / 14	7	9

Random formation sequence

- [ ] 1. Draw root and form.
- [ ] 2. State the root string and fret.
- [ ] 3. Calculate the form formula.
- [ ] 4. Name every root in the voicing.
- [ ] 5. Form silently and release.
- [ ] 6. Sound the practical partial.
- [ ] 7. Name and arpeggiate one triad inversion.

Natural-root prompt matrix

C	☐ C form	☐ A form	☐ G form	☐ E form	☐ D form
D	☐ C form	☐ A form	☐ G form	☐ E form	☐ D form
E	☐ C form	☐ A form	☐ G form	☐ E form	☐ D form
F	☐ C form	☐ A form	☐ G form	☐ E form	☐ D form
G	☐ C form	☐ A form	☐ G form	☐ E form	☐ D form
A	☐ C form	☐ A form	☐ G form	☐ E form	☐ D form
B	☐ C form	☐ A form	☐ G form	☐ E form	☐ D form

Do not judge success by whether the largest full grip can be held. Success means the root region, practical fragment, triad inversion, and local scale tones can be identified and used.

Guitar Exercises - Section VI, Level 54

Practice progression, CAGED boundaries, mastery gate, and log

NEXT: DIATONIC HARMONY AND ROMAN NUMERALS

CAGED IS MASTERED WHEN IT SHORTENS THE PATH TO MUSIC

Ten-phase progression

- [ ] 1. Memorize root-string formulas.
- [ ] 2. Build the five C-major forms.
- [ ] 3. Reduce every form to its practical fragment.
- [ ] 4. Arpeggiate all fifteen triads.
- [ ] 5. Convert each region to C minor.
- [ ] 6. Extract all five chord arpeggios.
- [ ] 7. Connect nearby scale tones.
- [ ] 8. Move C through the complete cycle.
- [ ] 9. Play five C-F-G-C cells.
- [ ] 10. Complete random roots and the capstone.

Boundaries and repair

SHAPE WITHOUT ROOT	name every root before sounding the form
FORCED FULL GRIP	reduce to the practical partial or triad
LOST INVERSION	name the lowest degree of the triad
SCALE DETACHED	start and finish on a chord tone
CYCLE PAUSE	practice only the failing adjacent forms
FRET SEARCH	calculate from the root-string formula

Mastery gate before Level 55

- [ ] Find all five CAGED regions for any natural root and name the root strings.
- [ ] Form every C-major reference, practical partial, and embedded triad without leakage.
- [ ] Convert the primary triad in every region from major to minor by moving one voice.
- [ ] Play all chord arpeggios, scale routes, the CAGED cycle, and five C-F-G-C cells.
- [ ] Complete at least 30 of 35 random root/form prompts on the first attempt.
- [ ] Perform the twenty-bar register capstone on two separate days without a form-search pause.

Practice log

Date	Root / form	Full or partial	Triad / inv.	BPM	Clean?	Weak link	Next target

NEXT Level 55 harmonizes the major scale, names chord qualities by Roman numeral, and transposes common progression families.

Standard tuning. CAGED is used as a practical root, chord, triad, arpeggio, and nearby-scale index.
